Inspiration and Practice: the spiritual grounding of our ecumenical and interfaith work

8th – 10th March 2019 at Woodbrooke Study Centre

Ecumenical and interfaith work can bring moments of real breakthrough as well as sticky challenges. Our speakers will help us explore the spiritual depth in such moments. What helps encourage moments of openness and insight? How do we honestly face and deal with the barriers of substantial difference? We will bring such reflections together with examples of practical work on the ground, making use of the up-to-date snapshot of current Quaker interfaith and ecumenical activity produced through research undertaken for QCCIR by Woodbrooke.

Co-ordinated by the Quaker Committee for Christian and Interfaith Relations with Timothy Ashworth

Speakers

Gretchen Castle is General Secretary at Friends World Committee for Consultation. She brings experience of the diverse ways of Friends worldwide.

Inderjit Bhogal is a Methodist theologian, founder of the “City of Sanctuary” movement and formerly CEO of the Corrymeela Community.

Deborah Rowlands is the current Clerk of Britain Yearly Meeting

Booking for this event is initially open only to representatives appointed by their Area Meeting. If you have been appointed by your Area meeting, please book online at www.woodbrooke.org.uk/qccir-conference

The priority booking period for AM representatives will close on 31 January 2019 – after that point, any remaining places will be available for general bookings.

If you are not appointed by an Area Meeting but wish to register an interest in attending, you can add yourselves to the waiting list at www.woodbrooke.org.uk/inspiration-and-practice

To join the waiting list, select one of the accommodation options (residential or non-residential), tick the box (below ‘Notify me when course is available’) and click to add to the waiting list. You will be asked for an email address. Everyone on the list will receive an email around 31 January once general bookings are open.
