About this events listing

The activities listed in this guide are:

• plenary sessions of Yearly Meeting (labelled Yearly Meeting Session and listed in blue). See Agenda & notes for further information

• special interest meetings

• community-building activities.

Events are listed chronologically and the groups are indexed by name to help you find specific events. Most people running events will be happy for you to take a packed lunch or snack to their event.

Please check the bulletin boards for changes to the programme of events; these will be updated daily.
Throughout the weekend

Britain Yearly Meeting & Woodbrooke stands

The Courtyard

Alongside time-specific events the Britain Yearly Meeting (BYM) stand and the Woodbrooke Quaker Study Centre stands will be in the courtyard all weekend. Members of staff from BYM and Woodbrooke will be available at various times of the day. See stands for details.

Community hub

Waldo Williams Room 2 (note change of room from Agenda & notes)

Yearly Meeting is a time when you can meet old F/friends and new. At the times below there will be space in the courtyard, bookshop, café and restaurant to meet and have a coffee. The community hub will be the place to go to enjoy meeting new friends around conversation tables, over art and craft activities, and by playing board games. There will even be a jigsaw! This is the place to go if you are on your own at Yearly Meeting and would like to get to know new people. The hub will be open throughout Yearly Meeting and will usually have a host present.

It’s still not too late to read Quaker faith & practice

How well do you know Quaker faith & practice? Whether you’ve never opened it or would like a refresher, this interactive session will provide a whistlstop tour of our red book to help you understand what’s there, what’s not there, and what we are talking about as we consider whether or not this is the right time to revise it.

Britain Yearly Meeting work fair

Come and find out more about the work done by Britain Yearly Meeting (BYM). There will be displays and literature available and a chance to speak to staff and committee members. No centrally managed work tables will be at the Sunday evening Groups Fair. We realise that not everyone will be able to attend on Friday afternoon and therefore aspects of the work will also be displayed on the permanent BYM stand throughout the weekend.

On Saturday and Sunday there will be themed displays of items from the Library’s collections. On Saturday the display will focus on the history and development of the book of discipline. On Sunday it will look at the role of the Friends Ambulance Unit in World War II.

The Library

The Library will be open throughout the weekend. Drop in to talk to staff, to find out more about the collections, for specific advice about managing your meeting’s records, or any other ways the Library might be able to help you or your meeting.

How does Yearly Meeting work?
Is this your first time at Yearly Meeting? Have you been before but are still confused by what happens? In this session, Woodbrooke staff will guide you through the way a large Quaker business meeting works. They will also offer practical tips on getting the best from the weekend and provide a chance to ask any questions that are on your mind. There is no such thing as a silly question!

William Penn Room 2

Quaker Life, Ministry & Outreach team

Nourishing our meetings – meeting and eating together

What nourishes the life of our meetings? How can we build loving, hopeful, welcoming Quaker communities? And how can we best respond to the challenges that face us? Come and join the Quaker Life Ministry & Outreach team for food, conversation and fellowship, and a chance to share stories. It will also be an opportunity to meet Ministry & Outreach staff and talk to us about our work in outreach and supporting and nurturing the life of meetings.

12:30–13:30
Ada Salter Room 2

Central Nominations Committee

Tea, cake and QSIFs

Get involved! Make new Friends! Be the change you want to see in the Society!

Come and eat cake while you speak to members of Central Nominations Committee about central service. Have you always intended to fill in a Quaker Service Information Form (QSIF) and make yourself available for central service? Now is the time!

12:30–13:30
Sarah Fell Room

Experiment with Light Network

Experiment with Light – its past, present, and future

We will launch our new ten-minute web video with Rex Ambler, hear feedback from the Glenthorne conference in March, and Klaus Huber’s new book Mind the Light - the story of a Quaker discipline will be on sale. The event will also include a short annual business meeting that is open to all.

12:30–13:30
Drayton House Room B06

Friends Fellowship of Healing

Spiritual healing talk and demonstration

The clerk of the Friends Fellowship of Healing will give a 20-minute talk about healing, explaining perhaps as never before that what the world and all its people need is healing. He will explain that anyone can be a healer. The talk will explain the process of healing, the simplicity of approach and the use of the healer as a conduit of the divine loving energy. This will be followed by a demonstration inviting full audience participation.

12:30–13:30
William Penn Room 1

Quaker Committee for Christian & Interfaith Relations

An introduction to Hinduism for Quakers

Bharti Tailor will give a brief introduction to the main principles of Hinduism. She has long experience of working in interfaith, including in Europe and on women’s issues. She is a member of the European Council of Religious Leaders, vice-president and trustee of Religions for Peace UK, and Hindu chaplain at Bronzefield Women’s Prison.
12:30–13:30
George Fox Room

Quaker Disability Equality Group (QDEG)

Quaker Disability Equality Group AGM and open celebration

All Friends are welcome to join us to celebrate the achievements of QDEG over the past ten years and to think about our next steps. What is our role among Quakers today and in the future?

12:30–13:30
Drayton House Room B16 Edgeworth

Quaker Stewardship Committee

Meeting houses: treasure or millstone?

Please come with experiences, ideas and questions about property to share with members of Quaker Stewardship Committee and Huw Davies, Britain Yearly Meeting (BYM) Property Support Project Manager.

12:30–13:30
Margaret Fell Room

Quaker Universalist Group

Quaker understandings of truth

Building on our annual conference in April, Alan York will speak on truth in religion, in a Quaker context and in the media. We will look forward to our 2019 conference on forgiveness. We will also have our books and pamphlets for sale, especially our latest by Rex Ambler entitled ‘Mind the Oneness: the Mystic Way of the Quakers’.

12:30–13:30
Ada Salter Room 1

Quaker World Relations Committee

Faith and play storytelling

Melinda Wenner Bradley (Youth Engagement Officer, Philadelphia Yearly Meeting) will offer a ‘Faith & Play’ story. ‘Faith & Play’ is a storytelling resource that helps children – and adults – find words and images to express experiences of holy mystery and wonder in our lives. ‘Faith & Play’ includes stories of Quaker faith, practice and witness, similar to Godly Play. Learn about a wonderful way to nurture your meeting’s children and be spiritually refreshed yourself.

12:30–13:30
Drayton House Room B03 Ricardo

Quakers and Business

Quakers and business: what went wrong?

Quakers have a tradition of commerce and business. Not only chocolate, but banking and finance, life assurance, biscuits, shoes, pharmacy, railways, canals, agricultural equipment, industrial manufacturing, etc. From the mid-1850s, however, many Quaker businesses were confined to history. What went wrong? What lessons can we draw from the Quakers in designing businesses today? How can we practise a responsible and ethical approach in business today?

14:00–15:00
Various rooms

Yearly Meeting session 3

Is it time to revise Quaker faith & practice, our book of discipline?

We will start the session with a number of parallel sessions:

A conversation in The Light

Large Meeting House – capacity 1,000

Come to hear a respectful, open-hearted conversation about religious difference between Jan Arriens, Craig Barnet and Marisa Johnson, facilitated by Helen Rowlands. There will also be time for contributions from Friends present.

Religious difference workshop

Ada Salter Suite – capacity 40

Explore religious difference through activities and conversation. Facilitators: Alex Wildwood & Rachel Muers. Alternatively, organise your own small group conversation in the café/courtyard using the DIY religious difference conversation handout available from the Community Hub (Waldo Williams 2).

Church government

Sarah Fell Room – capacity 140

An opportunity to discuss with members of the Book of Discipline Revision Preparation Group their recommendations for how church governance material could be handled in a revision. Clerks: Jenny McCarthy & Michelle Dumont. Book of Discipline Revision Preparation Group representatives: Jeremy Greenwood, Nick Perks and Caroline Nursey.
Missing identities?

William Penn Suite – capacity 48

Diversity, inclusion and privilege are live topics for Quakers in Britain today. How does this relate to the possibility of revising our book of discipline? There are many dimensions to diversity: race, class, age, (dis)ability, gender and sexuality to name a few. Do you see yourself in Quaker faith & practice? Facilitators: Meredith Freeman and Davie MacDonald.

Dance

The Restaurant – capacity 20

Use dance to explore your response to the possibility of revising our book of discipline. Facilitator: Ann Bettys.

Art

Waldo Williams 1 – capacity 24

Diversity and Discernment. Should we decide to revise Quaker faith & practice we will be embarking on a challenging undertaking. Using our valued discernment processes, how would we work together to select and organise from a wide ranging and diverse collection…and then agree on what format we could use to put together and arrange one presentation, for everyone, which is at the same time balanced, relevant and dynamic? Come explore these processes using simple collage. Facilitator: Judith Bromley Nicholls.

Library

Visit a display about the history and development of the book of discipline. Facilitated by library staff.

15:00–17:00

Britain Yearly Meeting (BYM) Data Safety Group

Data protection: what’s new for meetings

New data protection legislation is coming into force in May 2018 and will affect how all of us handle personal data. This special interest group will focus on the issues for Friends and will be led by BYM Data Safety Group.

17:30–18:30
Ada Salter Room 1

Friends World Committee for Consultation (FWCC)

The rich texture and diversity of Quakerism around the world

Come meet and welcome Quakers from around the world* who serve on FWCC’s Central Executive Committee. Let’s talk about ways of worship, peace and sustainability work, and what matters to Quakers where they live and worship. Come feel the rich texture of our diversity and celebrate the fullness of the Quaker family. (*Bolivia, Kenya, Australia, India, USA, Sweden – and the UK including Northern Ireland)

17:30–18:30
Ada Salter Room 3

Quaker Arts Network

Quaker Arts Network: the way ahead

A discussion of the scope of Quaker arts and our responses to them in the light of the questionnaire of members conducted in 2017 and the need for a new modus operandi. The meeting will be conducted by members of the network holding group and there will be beautiful things to see.

17:30–18:30
Drayton House Room B20 Jevons

Quaker Asylum and Refugee Network (QARN)

Sanctuary Meetings going forwards

In 2017, Quaker Peace & Social Witness (QPSW) and QARN launched Sanctuary Meetings at Yearly Meeting Gathering. With several dozen meetings now having become Sanctuary Meetings, this is our chance to meet, talk together, compare notes and exchange ideas. And those who are not yet quite decided can come and learn what it’s like being part of this initiative.

17:30–18:30
Drayton House Room B16 Edgeworth

Quaker Concern for Animals

Vegan living as Quaker witness: an introduction

Do the consumption choices we make exemplify our spiritual values and social commitments? Can they lead us toward simpler lives and demonstrate our care for our common planet? More and more people around the world are considering a mostly plant-based diet. Come hear from Friends who are exploring this path and join the discussion.
17:30–18:30
Ada Salter Room 2
Quaker Fellowship for Afterlife Studies (QFAS)
After death, then what?
As Quakers we are called to bear witness to the sustaining power of the Spirit in our lives. Spiritual experiences, when integrated into our daily awareness, give us glimpses of eternity and help us to live better in the here and now. In this meeting we will share experiences and look at Quaker and other sources to help sustain us on our journey, with info about QFAS events and activities.

17:30–18:30
Drayton House Room B03 Ricardo
Quaker Peace & Social Witness (QPSW)
Quaker Peace & Social Witness work
Quaker Peace & Social Witness works on behalf of Quakers to build sustained action for peace and social justice. Each of our programmes is guided by Quaker concerns and rooted in experience. Come see how QPSW is working to create a world in which Quaker values can flourish and how you can get involved.

17:30–18:30
Drayton House Room B06
Quaker Peace & Social Witness (QPSW) Overseas Peacebuilding Subcommittee
What can we learn from African peace activists about nonviolent campaigning?
QPSW’s Turning the Tide project in East Africa aims to spread the idea of achieving social change through active non-violence by giving African citizens tools to address conflicts peacefully. Over the years, our African colleagues have gathered a tremendous amount of experience in nonviolent campaigning in extremely challenging contexts. Tobias Wellner, QPSW East Africa Peacebuilding Programme Manager, will discuss with you what we can learn from them.

17:30–18:30
William Penn Room 1
Quaker United Nations Office (QUNO) Geneva
Quaker quiet diplomacy – still making a difference
Multilateralism is under threat. Despite the significant challenges, QUNO staff will tell of the hope we see during our recent actions on your behalf. We’ll describe the negotiations on climate change, on the human rights of migrants, on nuclear disarmament and on farmers’ rights to benefit from their seeds, among others. There will be time for your questions on these and other issues at the United Nations.

19:00–20:30
Large Meeting House
Swarthmore Lecture Committee and Woodbrooke Quaker Study Centre
Swarthmore Lecture: Chris Alton. Changing ourselves, changing the world
Through his lecture Chris will share how he seeks to challenge people and create change through his art and how art can be an act of witness. Chris will address the challenges we face in a changing and increasingly violent and fractured world, while considering how he as an artist and we as Friends might respond creatively, and offer subversive alternatives. A book to accompany the lecture will be produced and available in July. You will be able to pre-order the book during Yearly Meeting.

21:00–21:30
Large Meeting House

Ada Salter Room 2
Quaker Housing Trust
Quaker Housing Trust drop-in clinic
Quaker Housing Trust: Yearly Meeting’s own housing charity, funding charitable social housing projects on behalf of Friends since 1967. Come and find out who we are, what we do, and how we could help the local housing projects you support, run or want to develop. Specific requests for help with housing projects and general enquiries about the work of Quaker Housing Trust are all welcome.

12:30–13:30
William Penn 2
BYM Advocacy & Public Relations and Quaker Peace & Social Witness (QPSW)
Using simple online tools to share Quakerism
This interactive session will suit anyone who would like to learn about simple online tools that can be used to welcome new attenders, share news and events, and discuss Quaker faith and ideas. Social media, emails and websites are widely available, so how might they be put to best use for the benefit of Quaker work, worship and values?

12:30–13:30
Drayton House B16 Edgeworth
Britain Yearly Meeting Trustees
Meet the trustees and the Britain Yearly Meeting treasurer
Britain Yearly Meeting Trustees are responsible for the centrally managed work, finances and property of Britain Yearly Meeting. This session is an opportunity to learn more about their work, and to ask any questions about the Trustees' annual report including financial statements.

12:30–13:30
Large Meeting House
Eldership and oversight
Inclusivity: taking down the barriers
An interactive session to help engage and support those with eldership and oversight responsibility in Quaker communities start to think about how to take down the barriers for people of different ages, genders, ethnicity and class, etc.

12:30–13:30
Drayton House Room B03 Ricardo
Friends Historical Society (FHS): Gethin Evans
FHS 2018 Presidential Address
Gethin Evans will give his Presidential Address entitled ‘Cymru: concern, conscience and caution – Quaker cameos in Welsh history’. He aims to reflect and comment on Quaker involvement in the South Wales valleys (Rhondda and Brynmawr) during the depression; Quaker involvement in a schism which happened in the Presbyterian Church of Wales; and finally the drowning of Capel Celyn and the creation of Tryweryn Reservoir in the 1960s.

Living Witness

Working with world faiths on sustainable living

In the Paris Climate Agreement, governments committed to limit global warming to well below two degrees; this is only achievable with deep changes in the way we live. Quakers are part of a new international initiative to engage faith leaders and communities in sustainable living, launched at the 2017 United Nations climate summit. Come and explore with us how you and your local meeting can be part of it.

Friday 27 May
12:30–13:30
George Fox Room

Quaker Council for European Affairs (QCEA)

Swimming against the tide and finding hope

QCEA brings a Quaker vision of peace, justice and equality to Europe and its institutions. This session will present current affairs from the mainland in an accessible way, and reflect on the opportunities for hope and transformation. QCEA staff will explain what they are doing to build #SanctuaryEverywhere and #RethinkSecurity from Quaker House Brussels. European politics doesn’t have to be complicated and we’re here to untangle it.

Sunday 6 May
12:30–13:30

Quaker Values in Education (QVinE)

QVinE’s new perspectives – the writers speak

Experience and Faith in Education: Contemporary Essays from Quaker Perspectives. This new book contains substantial essays by Quakers who have worked within the state school system. The authors give extraordinary insights from their experience, relating their thinking to testimonies, so education and our values might be aligned within a system treating children as economic units.

12:30–13:30
Sarah Fell Room

Woodbrooke Quaker Study Centre with Chris Alton

Meet the Swarthmore lecturer

This year’s Swarthmore Lecture will be given by Chris Alton and will focus on creating change and how art can be an act of witness. This session will be a chance to meet Chris and to explore how we might respond creatively and offer subversive alternatives to the challenges we face in a changing and increasingly violent and fractured world.

A book to accompany the lecture will be produced and available in July. You will be able to pre-order the book during Yearly Meeting.

Friends House Moscow

Russia: Shrinking space for civil society and dissent

Sergei Nikitin, who worked as Amnesty International Director in Moscow for 14 years and retired recently, will speak about shrinking space for human rights – in Russia, former Soviet Union countries and elsewhere. We hope that Natasha Zhuravenkova, from Moscow, will also be present to talk about the current work of Friends House Moscow.

17:30–18:30
Ada Salter Room 1

Area meeting safeguarding coordinators

Safeguarding matters

A gathering for those with safeguarding responsibilities – area meeting safeguarding coordinators, lead trustees with responsibility for safeguarding, trustee clerks, local meeting safeguarding representatives and verifiers. An opportunity to meet the yearly meeting staff who provide safeguarding advice and guidance and to talk about all things DBS, PVG, DDC, CCPAS – or at least find out what these initials mean!

Further information will be available on the website and bulletin boards.
Meeting for Sufferings

Meeting for Sufferings: at the heart of our work

Meeting for Sufferings is our national representative body, with representatives from all area meetings and standing committees. It’s a hub for sharing information; helps to discern priorities; makes decisions; and issues statements in the name of Britain Yearly Meeting.

New members will be appointed by this Yearly Meeting. Come along and find out more about what they will be doing. Meet the clerks and share your views about this longstanding committee.

Quaker Committee for Christian & Interfaith Relations

Steve Chalke: Building peace ecumenically with INSPIRE

From a single hostel for homeless people in 1985, Baptist minister Steve Chalke has built Oasis into a global Christian movement working in 51 community hubs in 11 countries. Oasis and Quakers in Britain are partners in INSPIRE, a series of commemorative events on Friday 9 November 2018 aimed at encouraging young people to become ambassadors for peace, working locally and nationally for inclusion and reconciliation.

Quaker Peace & Social Witness Peace Education, Campaigning and Networking Subcommittee

Meet the peacemakers

Wayne Sharrocks is a former soldier now working for peace. Abigail Darton is a young Friend working with Leap Confronting Conflict on peaceful prisons.

Hear the experiences of two of this year’s peacemakers and learn more about the Quaker Peace & Social Witness scheme.

Quaker Service Memorial Trust

Pacifism under test. Experiences of the Friends Ambulance Unit (FAU) and Friends Relief Service (FRS) in World War II

The Quaker Service Memorial Trust has produced a DVD of interviews with former members of the FAU and FRS about their experiences in World War II. The interviews recall the challenges to the beliefs of pacifists and conscientious objectors and to the Quaker peace testimony when confronted with the evils of Hitler and Nazi Germany. Every meeting house will receive a copy of this DVD, which may be useful in exploring pacifism today.

Quaker Social Action

Food poverty and financial wellbeing with Quaker Social Action (QSA)

For 150 years, Quaker Social Action has sought practical solutions to the needs of people on low incomes. Needs change, and QSA’s response changes too. We live adventurously! Join us to hear about our two latest initiatives, ‘Get Set’ and ‘Bags of Taste’. Hear about the issues of financial wellbeing and food poverty that sit behind these projects, how we’re tackling them, and explore how the learning could be useful within your own communities.
17:30–18:30
Drayton House Room B03 Ricardo

Quakers in Criminal Justice

Mental health and criminal justice

This workshop is intended as a follow-on from our annual conference in February on ‘Mental Health and the Criminal Justice System’ and to look at the implications of the relationship between the two areas.

17:30–18:30
Ada Salter Room 3

Turning the Tide

Where do we find hope, and how can we make use of it?

This is an extraordinary time full of vital, transformative movements that could not be foreseen. It’s also a nightmarish time. Full engagement requires the ability to perceive both.
Rebecca Solnit

In this workshop we’ll explore our sources and roots of hope. And we’ll consider how to put our hope to work, including the role that collective action plays in simultaneously fostering hope and nurturing resilience, unity and positive change.
