

End Hunger

End Hunger UK is a campaign to combat some of the worst impacts of economic inequality in the country at the moment. The campaign is focussing on the rollout of Universal Credit just at the moment: a change to the benefits system that will greatly increase the number of people in real hunger in this country. The campaign brings together a lot of concerned organisations, and as Quaker Peace and Social Witness, we are a partner.

What can you do?

Please sign the End Hunger petition on Universal credit, which is on the second sheet attached to this one. Please put it out for people in your meeting to sign, or think about how you can get others in your wider community to sign it too. On the other side of that sheet is also information about further campaigning opportunities.

How can you stay in touch?

On the back of this sheet is also a chance to sign up for the new Economic Inequality in Britain occasional email distribution from us at Quaker Peace and Social Witness.

Please post both back to me, Ben Foley, at Friends House 173 Euston Road London NW1 2BJ by 12 October.

Further advice or support

If you are interested in campaigning and would like any support/advice please contact me: Ben Foley at Friends House in London.
